MANY EVENTS MARK SCHOOL CLOSING

The final ten days at the Grayling Public Schools were busy ones because of the extracurricular activities in progress. On Tuesday of last week Miss Margaret Douglas and Mrs. Robert Bovee's fifth grade children enjoyed a trip to Mackinac Island, starting at 4:30 in the afternoon. They drove to the Mackinac State park to eat a picnic meal, waiting afterwards for darkness in order to see the necklace of lights on the Mackinac Bridge before starting home. Mr. Bovee drove the bus.

Also on Tuesday the High School newspaper and yearbook staff had a picnic, starting at 4:30, at the Hartwick Pines. Mrs. Robert Klein was in charge of this.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Tom Robertson and Mrs. Jake Stillwagon's second graders picnicked at the Hartwick Pines, starting at 10 in the morning. Kip Fendrick drove the bus which took the children and their teachers, also Mrs. Floyd Millikin, Mrs. Roger Kneff, Mrs. Don Godro, Mrs. James Post and Mrs. Willard Harwood. A picnic lunch was set up under the trees of the park, and afterwards the children played, then went for a walk through the big trees, before returning to the school.

Also at 10 o'clock Wednesday, Mrs. Stanley Sink's morning kindergarten class gave a tea for their mothers.

At 6:30 in the evening, the teachers and their spouses and the parents of the children enjoyed a dinner at the Kalkaska Hotel. Mr. Frank Bond was chairman of this event, which was attended by sixty-two persons.

Thursday the afternoon Kindergarten class of Mrs. Stanley Sink entertained their mothers at a tea at 2 o'clock.

On Friday, Mrs. Matt Edson's first graders prepared and ate a breakfast in their classroom, with Mrs. Tom Welsh and Mrs. Jim Hatfield assisting.

Monday morning, Mrs. Elmer Fenton's and Mrs. Edson's first graders made a trip to the Underground Forest between 9 and 11. Mrs. Jess Sales and Mrs. Edgar Caid's third graders enjoyed a picnic at the Hartwick Pines, carrying bag lunches, and Mrs. Emil Giegling's fourth graders cooked their lunch in the gym hot lunch kitchen, and played organized games afterwards.

The children from Mrs. Smyth's sixth grade room at the Grayling Public School were, hoping for nice warm weather on Monday, June 6th, for they planned a picnic at Lake Margrethe that day. Plans were for the children to ride on pontoon rafts on the lake all morning. The rafts volunteered at noon to the children, and are owned by Mr. Jack Millikin and Mr. Charles Holtcamp. A hot picnic dinner was prepared by the parents for all to enjoy together at noon. Several children and adults were to act as life guards on the pontoons, as well as for the swimming in the afternoon, if weather permitted. In case of inclement weather, the students were to go to their teachers' homes on "County Road" for indoor games, dinner, roast wieners in the fireplace, and general fun.

Tuesday Mr. Rollin Yorty's sixth grade children made a tour of the Hartwick Pines in the morning, returning to school before noon.

Health Care Problem . . .

Everyone is interested in the health and medical problems of elderly people, and the matter has become a political issue of high importance. The rub lies in two ways. First, there is a lack of any general agreement or understanding as to just what the problem consists of, specifically speaking. Second, as a consequence of that, there is a lack of any general agreement as to what the proper solutions are.

One approach is found in the extremely controversial Forand Bill, which would give government-paid medical, hospital and nursing home benefits to all beneficiaries of the Social Security system. This bill has, and still has many adherents. But it also has aroused strong opposition, primarily on two grounds — that it would be enormously costly (about $2 billion a year begin with and much more later) and that it would amount to an entering wedge into socialized medicine. Very recently, the Administration offered a counter-measure. This, many believe, is a great improvement over Forand-type legislation, in that it is based on voluntary action by the elderly, with limited federal financial aid; would tie in with the private health insurance coverage, and would be less costly.

However, the American Medical Association, which has been making thorough studies of the medical problems of the aged, finds that this program "is based on the false premise that almost all persons over need health care and cannot afford it." That premise, the AMA's president, Dr. Louis M. Orr states, "is not fact." Moreover, only 15 per cent of the more than 15 million people in this nation over 65 years of age are on day assistance. Of the remainder, an undetermined number need help in handling the financial burdens of illness. Neither the Forand bill nor the Administration bill, keyed as they are to the assistance rolls, would adequately meet the need.

The AMA, therefore, has proposed a positive program of its own. Here, in summary form, is what it says:

1. Medical care programs, including preventive medical care, for people now under old age assistance programs should be improved.
2. The near-needy — that group of indeterminate size which can meet ordinary living costs but not health care costs — should be helped with a state-administered program of federal grants-in-aid to the states for the liberalization of existing old age assistance programs so that they can be given health care without having to meet the present rigid requirements for indigency.
3. Better nursing home facilities for the long-term care of the aged is the most urgent health care need of the time. The AMA supports federal programs for the provision of grants to help provide the facilities.

4. Voluntary health insurance and prepayment policies tailored to meet the needs of the aged for long term nursing care must be developed as rapidly as possible. The insurers are now experimenting in this new area of coverage.

5. Home care — which the AMA describes as "psychologically, medically, and financially desirable" — should be expanded.

6. A basic change in attitude toward the aged persons is an urgent need. Most people over 65 are reasonably well and able to work. Compulsory retirement should be eliminated.

7. Many older persons are unaware of the need for continuing healthful nutrition and other practices that contribute to good health. Health education is needed, along with preventive medical measures instituted long before the age of 65.

8. One of the principal economic problems of the aged has been the constant erosion of the purchasing power of his pension dollar. Thus, any government program to help the aged must be anti-inflationary.

Dr. Orr sums up: "Sensible, economical health care programs for the aged that preserve freedom at the same time that they promote security must necessarily be limited to support for the needy aged and leave to voluntary, competitive, private enterprise, those activities needed to improve the health care of the rest."

Paul Hendrickson of Bay City visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hendrickson, the first of the week.

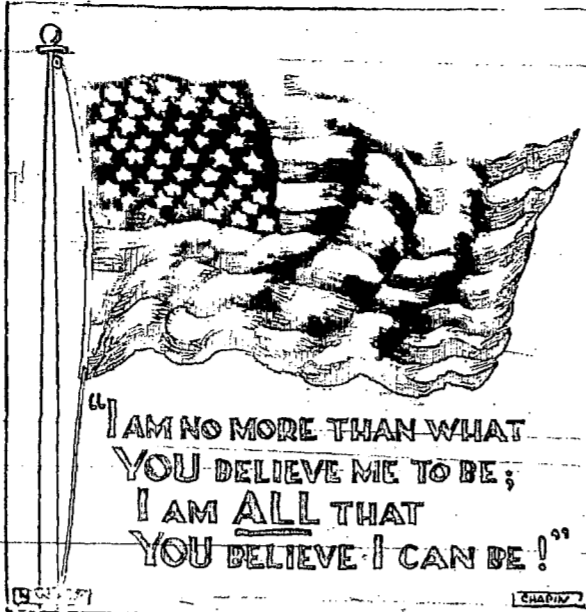

Mrs. William LaGrow entertained several relatives Monday night at a dinner party in honor of her husband's birthday.

Miss Irene LaMotte left Wednesday for Traverse City to spend the summer. She was accompanied by her uncle, Alfred Dionne.

At the mass meeting held Tuesday night it was unanimously agreed that this city should have a Chamber of Commerce. . . Just in what manner this should be organized was not definitely settled. There was a good attendance and everyone present had something to say and suggestions to offer. In order to get this organization in action, it was agreed that the set-up of the Izak Walton League be used as a clearing house for at least this present season. President Royal A. Wright agrees that the league will provide much clerical assistance and office as is necessary for the present. Appointment of the members by the several county organizations will be announced as soon as selected.

this city, graduated from Grayling high school and former Avalanche "Printer's Devil" is making great progress in Uncle Sam's regular army. During his early weeks as a rookie bulletin announced that examinations would be held for commissions, and Hardin got busy and was able to pass the examination, and was commissioned second lieutenant. He didn't stop there. When the World War broke out and experienced officers were in demand, even though he hadn't quite reached the required age of 21 years, he was commissioned captain and given charge of a company and sailed with the regular army forces for France. He says that he believes he was the youngest captain to serve in the war. The rank of major was attained and for the past 7 years he has been commanding of the R. O. T. C., at Creighton U., Omaha, Neb. Last week in recognition of his service there, "Printer's Devil" was distinguished and devoted service he has merited the degree of Master of Science in Military Science and Tactics.

For several weeks past building has been held up on the proposed structure of a double store building by Esbern Olson and a single store building by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sales. Both places are on Michigan Ave. The trouble regarding the building line started a score of years ago, when the first store building on that street was built on or near the real property line, which is in the neighborhood of six feet in front of the then usual building line. This practice has since been followed by other property owners on Michigan within the block nearest the Michigan Central railroad. At the last Monday meeting of the City council the matter was again presented and a motion to grant building permits to Mr. Olson and Mr. Sales permitting them to build their building within 18 inches of the regular property line, which was voted on three to two in favor.

At the close of the council meeting held at the city hall Monday night, City Manager George (Charley) Bennett, who was sitting in the front of the school yard aroused the suspicion of Sheriff Bennett, and upon investigation it was found to contain a quart of gas. He managed to gain entrance and discovered it was owned by Miss Elizabeth Gear of Clare. A phone call there revealed it had been stolen, and no doubt the thieves had abandoned their car and took Mr. Granger's which was well-filled with gas. As yet the latter car has not been found.

Mrs. Otto Failing, entertained the Larkin Club at her home Friday at a party of 100 guests.

Misses Elaine Ferguson and Marian Hummel returned Saturday from a two-weeks visit in Detroit.

Mrs. James Richardson and sons Paul and Glen of South Branch are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ahman, for two weeks. Paul is spending the time with his aunt, Mrs. Nyland Houghton.

Brad Jarmin accompanied by Miss Pauline Lietz and his grandfather, Daniel Jarmin, enjoyed a trip to Bay City Sunday. Bay City is Daniel Jarmin's former home, and he reports a very enjoyable day among old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick, County Clerk and Mrs. Ferguson spent Sunday in Detroit guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hammond. The ladies spent the day at Belle Isle while the men took in the Tiger-Yankee ball game.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, Miss Olive Coffin and Miss Marjorie Doherty arrived from Edmonton, Canada, Thursday, to visit Mrs. Gray's sister, Mrs. A. J. Joseph and family. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lubnau and children, Tom and Nancy, and Mrs. Lee Dunwoodie of Detroit, Mrs. Alex Ewart, Pontiac, Mrs. Marian Burch Traverse City, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rockwell and son Jim of Gaylord also visited the same home.

The A. M. Lewis family of Flint have opened their cottage at Lake Margrethe for the summer. Last weekend Mrs. Lewis entertained a party of friends from Flint.

Mrs. John Libcke and little son John Hanson, of Detroit, are expected to come today to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hanson. Miss Ann Hanson went down to accompany them.

Mrs. Gale Clise has accepted a position as night operator at the local telephone exchange.

Wm. Devereaux and family of Detroit have moved into their cottage on the South Branch of the AuSable for the summer.

Among a long list of graduates from M.S.C. we note the name of Mark Campbell Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Lewis of Flint. He specialized in the science of mechanical engineering. Mark was born in Grayling and is one of our own boys.

School closed amidst picnic games, beginning last Saturday when the sophomores enjoyed a canoe trip down the world famous AuSable. To end the Senior festivities they enjoyed breakfast in the open morning, leaving for the picnic ground at seven bells. Mothers were sure kept busy this week putting up lunches.

Twelve little girls were guests of little Phyllis Bennett yesterday afternoon from two to four o'clock when she celebrated her fifth birthday. There was a birthday cake and prizes were awarded for contests.

Senior Girl Scout Report For 1959-60

The last meeting of the Senior Girl Scouts Troop was held May 23rd. All day work was finished and everyone is waiting for vacation to start. At the same time the girls sent a gift package to a girl in Europe.

The Seniors had a wonderful winter. They started late in the fall but accomplished everything for their silver tea and fashion show at Christmas time. The girls all worked on aprons, gift boxes and candle holders. They thank Mrs. Herb Wolff, Jr., who gave her time to teach the girls how to decorate the gift boxes, and also thank all the merchants and mothers and guests who helped make the show a very big success.

The New Year started with the Kiwanis dinner. In February the Scouts had a luncheon and bake sale and candy sale. Mrs. Don Ferguson receives a vote of thanks for helping the girls with their square dancing classes. On March 12, the long-awaited trip to De-

Brownie Scout News
Twenty-one Brownies were brought to order at the May 17th meeting, with Gayle Post leading "The Lord's Prayer." President Jackie Blaauw called the roll and the girls named pets they would like to have.

All stood and sang four lovely songs, all in motion. A birthday circle was formed and the Brownies wishes expressed.

The Brownies were supposed to have a hike, but the weather did not permit it. They played "Go Milk Bottle" and "Hit the Round the Abbie" and "Hit the Milk Bottle." Mary Jo being captain of the winning team. Lunch was served by Patty Hulbert, Sherrie Demolines and Jackie Blaauw.

The Brownie Scout hike took place May 24th. All the girls brought their bag lunches and leader Mrs. Brown brought a gallon of Kool Aid, and they all had a really good time eating out.

They had lots of company as there were lots of mosquitoes to help them have a better time. This was the last meeting of this Scout year. We are very sorry we did not get to march in the parade, but it did rain. We have still had a wonderful year.

Mrs. Brown, leader of the Avalanche's apologies to the Frederic Girl Scouts for the error in the last Brownie Scout news. It was the Girl Scout who named Mrs. Brown their Mother of 1960, instead of the Brownies, and the Girl Scouts who presented Mrs. Brown with a plant.

George B. Schley

George B. Schley, dean of Indiana patent lawyers, died at his home 4211 Knollton Road on May 30, 1960, at age 81.

Mr. Schley was born April 8, 1879, in a residence at the corner of Ohio and Meridian streets in Indianapolis, Ind., where the Board of Trade Building now stands, and less than half a block from the Hume Mansur Building where he had his office for nearly fifty years.

He attended Manual Training High School at the time it opened and was in one of the very first classes graduated by that High School. He then attended Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, from which he received the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1902 and the Master of Arts degree in 1903. He then passed a civil service examination and became an Examiner in the United States Patent Office in Washington, D. C. While in Washington, he attended the George Washington University Law School from which he received the Bachelor of Law degree in 1905. On 1906 he left the Patent Office to begin practice as patent lawyer. His first patent work was largely in the electrical field, in the employ of the Bullock Electric Company in Cincinnati and of the Aills-Chalmers Company when it absorbed the Bullock Company and moved it to Milwaukee. In 1911, he returned to Indianapolis to enter the private practice of patent law with Mr. Arthur Hood, with whom he formed a partnership which continued until 1921. He then established his own office and continued to practice in the Hume Mansur Building, in the partnership of Schley & Trask from 1928 to 1944 and in the partnership of Schley, Trask & Jenkins from 1945 to the time of his death.

In the 1920's his work brought him into close contact with some of the early developments in the punched card accounting field, and with early developments of aluminum pistons for automotive use. He became widely known for his work in the chemical and pharmaceutical fields. For many years he handled the entire patent work of Eli Lilly and Company and he assisted that company in selecting and training the staff for its own patent department. The character and range of his work is indicated by the names of some of the clients he served for many years. The Purdue Research Foundation, The Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation, Indiana Steel & Wire Company, Reilly Ter and Chemical Company, J. D. Adams Company, Thomas and Skinner Steel Products Company, the Insulin Committee of the University of Toronto, and Nordisk Insulinlaboratorium of Gentofte, Denmark.

In addition to his active patent law practice, he also served the Episcopal Church in many ways. He was a vestryman at St. Paul's Church, for a number of years, and he was one of the Trustees of the Diocese of Indianapolis and a member of the Diocesan Council. He was elected representative of his Diocese at several Triennial Conventions of his church. He was treasurer of the Episcopal Church Pension Fund for the Diocese from its start in 1917 until the late 1930's.

Mr. Schley was also a member of St. Francis' Episcopal church in Grayling. In 1904 he married Serenah Warfield, daughter of Professor Joshua Warfield, of Howard County, Maryland, who died in 1943. In 1944 he married Marjorie Trask, the sister of his law partner, who survives him.

He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the American Patent Law Association, the American Bar Association, the Indiana and Indianapolis Bar Association, the Sytic Tie Masonic Lodge, the Indianapolis Literary Club, the English-Speaking Union, and the Indianapolis Council on World Affairs. He was also a member of the American Chemical Society, a registered professional engineer, and charter member of the Scientific Club.

Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock on Wednesday, June 1st, in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Indianapolis, with cremation following. Interment was in White Chapel Cemetery at Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. Schley has been a summer resident at Lake Margrethe since the early 1920's. He purchased a cottage from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ewald in September, 1925. In the early '30's he built his present cottage on an adjoining lot.

Outdoors Space Demand Outruns Facilities In State

Hitler Sold Germany needed living room, but what Michigan outdoorsmen need is playing room.

Increased demand for outdoor recreation will outrun available facilities unless new land use policies and investment program are adopted.

That's the national picture and Michigan, the "Water Wonderland," is highly concerned because it is a top Mecca for tourists.

The state took a step toward providing more parks, beaches and recreation areas with the so-called "sticker fee" bill which became law in May. The law permits a 10 million dollar bond issue for land acquisition and park development.

However, the Conservation Department says complications in getting the program into effect mean no real significant gains can be registered at least until next year.

This is when national authorities predict a 7 percent yearly increase in visitors to federal and state outdoor recreation areas.

At that rate, there will be a 13-fold increase in tourism by the beginning of the 21st century. Three ways have been proposed to take care of the campers, picnickers and hikers.

The first is adding more acres for recreation. But that costs money and raises other problems. Another way is to intensify the use of existing facilities. More camping places, picnic areas and sanitary facilities can be added so that large numbers of people can use the parks.

This method takes away some of the wilderness quality of the areas and can be expected to cut down wildlife populations. The competition for living space — or playing space — between animals and humans has already caused some concern to nature lovers.

The third method is to put limitations on length of stay, charge higher fees, encourage use in less busy seasons of the year and "zone" parks for certain kinds of use by campers and others.

Michigan's method encompasses all three of these. But it's slow. One bright point is that Michigan has more land and water that can be developed into suitable recreation areas than many states. Numerous areas just on the Great-Lakes shoreline have been pegged as good-sites for parks.

One site for a future park was all but bagged when the Legislature approved money to buy a surplus Coast Guard station near Tawas City.

VOTING MACHINES HAVE A row of levers that look almost like teeth, and they are gobbling up the paper ballot precincts in Michigan like so many peanuts.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports four out of five Michigan voters will cast their ballots on machines this year.

Voting, like other facets of life, is becoming automated. The advantages of using mechanical means for casting ballots are many, however.

Speed and accuracy, both in counting the votes and re-counting them if necessary are two chief ones.

The human fatigue factor never enters in when the voting and counting is done practically automatically. And there is never any doubt about what a person means as was sometimes the case with handmarked paper ballots.

THE DANGER OF SPREADING rumors was pin-pointed recently by a speaker at Michigan State University.

Capt. Norman J. Schleigh of the Baltimore, Md., police department told a gathering of peace officers rumors, half-truths and outright lies — even when the person telling the story firmly believes he is accurate — are persistent stumbling blocks to law enforcement.

They also make many people's lives miserable. Schleigh categorized rumors as wishful thinking, fear rumors and hate rumors. He said a way to combat falling victim to rumors was to check all things heard for accuracy, source and credibility.

The Baltimore policeman also offered one piece of advice — not only for law enforcement men but for everybody.

Don't be gullible, he said.

STORM WARNINGS. During blizzards and flooding that marked the beginning of Michigan's spring, a new problem faced those who report road conditions. It involved whether to follow the procedure of marine weather reporters. When things got really rough in the state, should they issue a small car warning?

Twilight...and Lone Dot looms like a ghost town lost in the mountains. Then, as the lights blink on, you realize that rural electric lines have tied this isolated speck on your map to jet-age America. Now you know the conveniences of home are as near as the lighted windows that turn this lonely road into Main Street.

Bringing electricity to Lone Dot, and other out-of-way places, has been a modern-day "miracle." Before 1935, most people in rural America couldn't get electricity, at least at a price they could afford.

Then came the Rural Electrification Administration

When the lights go on tonight in Lone Dot

—the REA. Now for the first time, rural people could cooperate with their neighbors to bring electricity to rural areas. They organized into groups, borrowed money from the REA, and built their own electric lines.

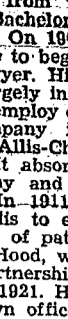

Today, over 1,000 locally-owned electric systems—mostly cooperatives—serve schools, churches, homes, farms, and businesses all over rural America. Thousands of lighted Lone Dots—plus payments of more than $1 billion in principal and interest on $3 1/2 billion REA loans—testify that rural electrification is one of the soundest investments our Nation has ever made.
